DEPARTMENT OF RHEUMATOLOGY
Update - Winter 2016

We want to keep our patients family & Carers and members of the public updated with everything that's happening in our Rheumatology Department. We hope you enjoy reading it – please let us know what you think. You can email colin.beevor@porthosp.nhs.uk with any comments or feedback.

As the nights start to draw in it feels like winter is on its way. Last year we experienced one of our busiest ever winter periods and whilst our staff coped admirably, our services were under huge pressure. This year we would like to help our local community be ‘winter ready’ and to stay as well as possible.

We want to make sure you stay well this winter so here’s some useful advice and tips to help you.

* Free flu jabs are available- see our flu campaign 2016 information
* Keep a supply of cold and flu remedies in your house- discuss with your Pharmacist whether you can use these remedies with your current medication
* Keep your home warm - at least 18°C.
* If you have been prescribed antibiotics, make sure you finish the course. If you are taking Methotrexate, Mycophenolate, Azathioprine or one of the biologic therapies STOP taking this whilst you have signs of an active infection and are taking antibiotics and contact the Rheumatology Advice and Information Line for more advice and support
* If you have regular medication, make sure you have ordered your repeat prescriptions in advanced so that you don’t run out during the holiday period.
* If you start to feel ill, get help from your Pharmacy straight away.
* Call NHS 111 if it’s not an emergency, they can help you get the right treatment.

Remember Slip and trip and Falls- accidents increase during the autumn and winter season for a number of reasons: there is less daylight, leaves fall onto paths and become wet and slippery and cold weather spells cause ice and snow to build up on footpaths.
New Consultants

The Department of Rheumatology welcomes our new Consultant Rheumatologists

Dr Mark Edwards

Dr Edwards graduated from the University of Bristol in 2003 and has been a Member of the Royal College of Physicians for almost 10 years. He completed his training in Rheumatology here in the Hampshire and the Dorset region, and during this period, undertook a PhD at the University of Southampton. The work from his thesis and other international research collaborations has been widely published in medical journals. He currently sits on the committee of the Bone Research Society and the steering committee of the International Osteoporosis Foundation’s Capture the Fracture® campaign.

Having worked in our department previously, he has already started to take an active role in our patient engagement events and quality improvement projects, and looks forward to working with us again to continue to provide the highest quality clinical care for our patients.

Dr Anne Scott Russell

Dr Ann Scott-Russell qualified at St Georges Hospital medical school, London and did her postgraduate training in Rheumatology in the Wessex region. She has been an NHS Consultant since 2008 initially in East Kent and latterly in Frimley Park Hospital, Surrey.

Her special interests are in musculoskeletal ultrasound and medical education. She attained a C.A.S.E accredited qualification from Christchurch Canterbury University in 2012 and is a member of BSR musculoskeletal SIG. She teaches and mentors on the Focussed musculoskeletal ultrasound course at Christchurch Canterbury University.

In 2016 she completed her certificate in Medical Education from Cardiff University and is currently working towards her Masters degree in this subject.

Dr Scott-Russell is delighted to be returning to the region where she trained and is looking forward to joining the Portsmouth Rheumatology team and continuing to provide a high quality service to our patients.

Tired of Being Tired

Fatigue - an overwhelming tiredness - is one of the most common symptoms of Inflammatory Arthritis and Connective Tissue Diseases. Fatigue in Arthritis and Connective Tissue Diseases is not just an ordinary tiredness, like you might get at the end of a hard day's work. It's as an overwhelming sense of tiredness that often occurs after very little activity.

Fatigue affects people in different ways, and it may change daily or hourly. Some people find that it is the symptom that affects them most, but there are ways to manage it and minimise its effects on your life. This can make it complicated to explain fatigue to others.

The Department of Rheumatology is currently offering a 7 week programme entitled “Tired of Being Tired”, previous attendees report that the programme has given them the opportunity to explore different self-management and relaxation techniques and improved their quality of life.

If you would like to know more about the programme or would like to register- please contact Department of Rheumatology by email rheumatology.conference@porthosp.nhs.uk or telephone 0239228 6000 ext 6142

Family and Friends Tests

The Friends and Family Test is a survey which asks patients whether they would recommend the NHS service they have received to friends and family who need similar treatment or care. Here in the Department of Rheumatology we have been asking similar questions over many years and we are grateful for your feedback. The most important thing for us about the Friends and Family Test is hearing what you say and acting on your experience, either to make improvements to services or to replicate what is going well. We really do value what our community of patients thinks of the services we provide and the Friends and Family Test is one way that you can tell us what you think. Depending on the service you are part of, you will be offered the opportunity to answer the Friends and Family Test in a variety of ways:

- At each appointment if you attend a clinic-based service
- At the point of your discharge from the day case suite (Infusion unit)

We understand that this may mean that you are completing a form at each appointment and day case suite appointment time, but it is important that we have your feedback.

If you do not want to add any comments to the comment box that is ok, but all feedback is gratefully received.
